TCP is a California-based national children's advocacy organization committed to improving the lives of underserved children where they live, learn, and play with breakthrough solutions at the intersection of research, policy, and community engagement. Since 1993, TCP has been leading the voice for children and a critical resource for communities across California and the nation, working every day to champion policies that provide all children with the resources and opportunities they need to thrive.

The Children's Partnership

ALL IN is a campaign to equip education leaders with the tools they need to educate families and individuals in the school, early learning, and after-school communities about health coverage and care opportunities.

Health4All Kids: Goals and Strategies

- Address barriers to enrolling in health coverage (lack of awareness, low health literacy, enrollment challenges, and fear of applying)
- Help families understand the value of health coverage
- Ensure children get preventive care
- Provide families with educational materials in their own languages and that match their literacy levels
- Repeat the same messages from multiple sources (such as schools, health centers, places of worship, television, radio, and social media)
- Connect families with resources to enroll, such as providing one-on-one assistance and support
